COUNTIANS GIVE $8,900 TO POLIO FUND DRIVE HERE

Contributions to the Adams County Chapter of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis so far total $8,900, Mrs. Joseph E. Codori, fund drive chairman, announced today.

That amount is $600 more than the $8,300 collected in the 1953 drive, she said. The total does not include expected contributions from McSherrystown, a number of schools, and a large number of auto owners and others who usually donate to the campaign. She added that present indications are that the drive will near, and possibly reach, the $10,000 mark before it is completed. So far auto owners, who were sent cards asking donations, have donated $3,500.

Need Donations

The additional donations will be needed, Mrs. Codori said, because of the new system of distributing the fund this year. One third of the donations, after expenses have been paid, must be sent to the March of Dimes Polio Prevention fund, the remainder divided equally between the local chapter and the National Foundation.

Thus instead of retaining 50 per cent of the donations for local polio patients the county chapter will only receive 33 1/3 per cent.

Adams county residents have "responded generously to the need for additional funds by the Infantile Paralysis organization this year," she said. "Many in making donations expressed the hope that the campaign to vaccinate approximately 1,000,000 school children this year in a mass test of a new anti-polio vaccine will prove successful. However, if that vaccine does not prove the answer to preventing polio, several other vaccines have already been developed and are ready for test," she said.

School Donations

Mrs. Codori listed the following donations to the "March of Dimes" by school youngsters throughout the county: Arendtsville, $22.68; Bendersville, $17.80; Biglerville, $28.44; Littlestown Jointure, $75.75; Belmont, $4.25; Meade School, $36.68; Lincoln School, $20.54; High Street School, $30; Gettysburg High School, $75; Boyd's School, $7.75; Midway, grade one, $7.50; Midway, grade two, $5.60; Sand Hill, six, seventh and eighth grades, $2.70; St. Francis Xavier, Gettysburg, $24; Valley, $2.40; Pitzer's, $3.25; Franklin Twp. Consolidated, $14.30; State Road, $12.55; Harbold's, $3.22; Blackberry, $5.82; Miller's, $5.15; Whitcomb's View, $6.29; Mechanicsville, $13.55; Idaville grades one and two, $4.36; Idaville, grades 3 and 4, $1.29; York Springs, $34.71; Conewago Jointure, $92.09.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Newspapers Are Best Medium To Sell Products Declare Admen

HARRISBURG (P)—Executives from newspapers in four states today joined final sessions of a 2-day advertising conference with the warning that advertising must "sell ideas as well as prices."

"People read ads because they want to know what's for sale and to get ideas which might benefit them," Grant Stone, advertising director of the Cleveland, Ohio, Press told some 150 newspaper advertising directors and staff members yesterday.

Stone was principal speaker at a dinner meeting of the conference sponsored jointly by the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' Assn. and the Interstate Advertising Managers Assn.

Representatives from newspapers in Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware attended the sessions.

Most Effective Medium
Stone cited newspapers as "the most effective and most economical" means for manufacturers and merchants to sell their products. He added, however, that "too many advertisers are afraid to tell people about their products."

A review of advertising budgets to determine whether or not they are adequate to do a good selling job today and in the future is needed, Stone said.

Jack M. French, of the New Castle News, was announced the winner today in a special essay contest for newspaper advertising salesmen.

Will Receive Scrolls
Runner-up in the contest was Teresa Spataro, Allied Newspapers, Grove City.

Scrolls will be presented to the winners at a later date. Announcement of the awards was made at the advertising conference here of the PNPA and IAMA.

Honorable mention went to Neal Eaton, Valley Daily News, Tarentum; James G. Norris, Williamsport Sun, and Wilbert E. Stremmel, Carlisle, Pa., Sentinel.

Donald W. Davis, advertising professor with the journalism department at the Pennsylvania State University, served as judge.

COLLEGE PLAY WELL RECEIVED

Jean Anouk's modern "Antigone" scored a collegiate triumph, Friday night, before nearly 200 persons who attended the Greek tragedy staged in Brua Hall on the college campus by the Dickinson College Mermaid Players. The Dickinson cast appeared under the auspices of the Gettysburg College Owl and Nightingale Dramatic Club.

Cody Brooks as King Creon, Antigone's arrogant, prancing uncle who found that "pride goeth before a fall," and Alvin Winett, Sophocles' Antigone, the tragic pawn in a game of Greek political unrest, starred.

Comic relief was provided by Richard M. Greene, a likable ruffian as the "First Guard" in Creon's royal bodyguard. Frank Chamberlain explained the sequence of events in a natural, third-person manner.

Other cast members included Robert D. McIntyre, as Haemon; Joanne Keith, Ismene; Phyllis Fetterman, nurse; Gene Chell and James Roper, second and third guards, and Irvine N. Smith, messenger and director.

Swift Action Breaks Cuban Kidnap Case Within 11 Hours

SANTIAGO, Cuba (P)—Swift army action—rescue, arrests and the killing of a servant deemed faithless—broke the Facundo Bacardi kidnaping case last night little more than 11 hours after the 8-year-old heir to a rum fortune was seized for $50,000 ransom.

The servant was chauffeur Guillermo Rodriguez, 23, a dishonorably discharged Navy veteran who was at the wheel of the station wagon in which the tousle-haired boy vanished on his way to a fashionable private school at 8 a.m. yesterday.

Accused of conspiracy in the frustrated plot, Rodriguez was shot to death "while attempting to escape" soon after Facundo was restored to his parents, hungry but safe and sound. A jobless woman nabbed while walking the boy along a suburban road was jailed in a barracks.

TELLS HOW MEN ARE NAMED FOR AFROTC COURSES

The Gettysburg College Air Force Reserve Officers Training Crops today made public its methods for selecting students to continue in the advanced course, or the junior and senior years, of the AFROTC program.

A standard battery of aptitude and interest tests, called the Air Force Officers Qualifying Test, is administered to all students prior to their admission into the advanced course of training.

Colonel Charles E. Fulton, professor of air science at the college, announced that the mission of the AFROTC training program now is to "provide a source of college-trained men to enter flying training, whereas the former plan was to build up a reserve of men to be called in time of need. The Air Force Officers Qualifying Test plays a big part in this new mission by affording a valid and reliable measure of cadet potential."

The examination battery consists of five individual tests: Officer Aptitude, Biographical Information, Flying Aptitude, Attitude Survey and Information Inventory, and Officer Activity Inventory. From the results of the tests are derived nine different aptitudes, pilot, officer, verbal, observer, quantitative, flying interest, administrative interest, technical interest, and quantitative interest. The scoring scale is from one to nine within each of the nine aptitudes. The results of the tests are scored mechanically, and the raw scores from the five different tests are converted into standard scores ranging from a low of one to a high of nine in each aptitude, called stanines. "Stanines are simply normalized single-digit standard scores for ease of handling and interpretation," he said.

Men Are Classified
From the results of these tests, all cadets in the AFROTC program are placed in one of the following categories: (1) Flying — all those cadets who are physically qualified to pilot an aircraft and obtain a relatively high pilot stanine in the tests. (1-a) Observer — also physically qualified to fly plus a relatively high observer stanine on the tests. (2) Technical — Those students pursuing a scientific or technical major field of study. (3) All students physically disqualified to fly—all non-veterans not qualified for categories (1) or (2). (4) Veterans.

Categories (1) and (1a) have no limit as to the number of cadets that may be taken into the advanced course of study. Categories (2) and (3) have very limited quotas that change from time to time, and category (4) currently has no quota authorized.

Pope's Recovery Will Be "Gradual"
VATICAN CITY (P)—The Vatican, apparently answering rumors that Pope Pius XII has taken a turn for the worse, announced today that his "gradual, slow recovery continues normally."

A communique, the first issued in several days on the ailing pontiff's health, said his convalescence from a persistent stomach ailment was expected to be a long one.

"A good period of repose" is needed before the Pope can regain his normal health, the Vatican said.

A flurry of rumors yesterday that he was worsening led to new concern here for the pontiff, stricken Jan. 25 with a stomach ailment. Vatican sources denied the rumors.

They said, however, that physicians still were taking extreme care with the Pope's diet and that he still is able to eat only semisolids.

"He is feeble and the period of convalescence will last at least a month," one of the informants said.

WASHINGTON (P)—The Labor Department says initial claims for unemployment insurance have been dropping, but not so fast for the season as in recent years.

The five-nation commission, comprising delegates from India, Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Poland, goes out of existence at midnight tomorrow.

The Indians, Czechs and Poles signed the report. The Swiss and Swedes issued a statement emphasizing that they did not "join in the conclusions."

FIND GRENADE ON SIDEWALK NEAR EMBASSY

ROME (P)—A bomb scare caused Italian riot police to throw a guard around part of the United States Embassy property today. An unexploded hand grenade was found near the embassy.

A demolition expert, however, said the grenade appeared to be a dud. He dismantled it and took the pieces away with him.

Then police, who had blocked pedestrians from approaching the area, relaxed their cordon and withdrew.

The grenade was found on the edge of a sidewalk that runs along the side of the embassy building on fashionable Via Veneto. A police captain said the area would be kept clear until a bomb disposal expert could be called.

Most members of Ambassador Clare Boothe Luce's small Saturday staff on duty at the embassy were unaware of the incident.

Mrs. Luce Was Away
Mrs. Luce was not in the building.

Police said they could not explain the grenade's presence. They were summoned by an unidentified passerby.

The United States and its ambassador have been under attack by the Communists and fellow-traveling Socialists during parliamentary exchanges recently on charges of influencing Italy's center governments.

The American envoy has urged Italy, which has had four governments the last eight months, to get tougher with its Communist minority. As an example, she has warned that factories with Communist working forces can expect no American arms orders.

High School starting with a covered dish supper at 6 p.m.

Tuesday evening the six-week leadership training course for the Black Walnut and Conewago districts will begin at New Oxford High School, with a number of county men among the instructors. Registration will be $1 for the course or 25 cents per night. Courses will be offered in cubbing, scouting, advanced scouting and explorer work, for scoutmasters, assistants, etc. In addition "one night stands" with a different subject each Tuesday will be held for committeemen. Arrangements for the committeemen's program are being made by Dr. Watson and Dr. Joseph H. Riley.

One Unit Signs
So far only one Black Walnut unit has signed to participate in the Heritage of America program to be held June 17 and 18 at York Fairgrounds. Attorney Hartman said. That unit, Gardner's Troop 75, is planning to have ten of its members take part in the pageant. Hartman asked units throughout the Black Walnut district to volunteer at the present time to participate.

Several local men are members of the committee arranging for the pageant which is to cover the history of the nation. Dr. Watson will be in charge of the Indian portion and Attorney Hartman is listed as an associate director. Approximately 1,700 scouts are scheduled to take part in the event.

A first prize of $35 and other prizes will be awarded to the Adams County Boy Scout troops arranging for the planting of the most trees under the conservation program provided by the York-Adams Council in cooperation with the Galtfelter Paper Co. The scout troops are to seek out farmers and have them sign contracts to plant as many trees as they can. The only cost to the farmer is approximately 25 cents per 1,000 trees as a delivery charge. The troops are credited with the number of trees listed on the contracts they secure and the prizes will go to the troops arranging for planting of the largest number of trees. The trees become the property of the farmer, to be used as he wishes with the exception that they may not be planted merely for ornamental purposes.

"MY WISHES"

I wish that life was full of love . . . and days were full of bliss . . . and mankind lived in brotherhood . . . I wish so much for this . . . I wish that smiles would dry all tears . . . and laughter replace pain . . . and in the place of broken dreams . . . a faith that would not wane . . . I have a strong desire to . . . see peace and real good-will . . . a lifetime full of happiness . . . that's flavored with a thrill . . . I long to see the end of wars . . . for they bring naught but strife . . . oh yes, this world would be a dream . . . if wars did not plague life . . . I crave to see a surge to God . . . for without God we're lost . . . and so I strive to gain His grace . . . with good to pay the cost . . . but wishing is an idle thing . . . and meant for those who shirk . . . so I will try the best I can . . . to make my wishes work.

Ely, Nevada, isn't a big community. But the Chamber of Commerce and Mines there recently adopted a resolution which should be followed by similar organizations in every city, right up to the biggest. The resolution stated that excessive federal spending creates a tax load "which is draining away the life blood of our economy." Then the Chamber pledged itself "not to support any new local programs calling for Federal aid, except those of extreme emergency or need, but will advocate the financing of such programs at the local and State level."

In other words, the Ely Chamber wants honest government—even though the cuts in spending will be felt in its own area as well as elsewhere. When and if that attitude becomes general, we will not need to fear for the American future.

Last Day To File Sales Tax Returns

HARRISBURG (P)—Today is the last day for retailers to file state sales tax returns for the three-month period ending Jan. 31.

"The fact that the final day falls on Saturday, usually a holiday for state offices, does not affect the due date of returns for November, December and January," said Joseph C. Snyder, director of the State Sales Tax division.

All district offices will remain open through the day today, including the Harrisburg office, Snyder said.

Dulles Claims Diplomatic Victory In Berlin Parley

By JOHN SCALI

WASHINGTON (P)—Secretary of State Dulles has undertaken to convince his critics, Congress and the country that the United States scored a diplomatic victory in arranging for a conference to discuss peace in Asia.

Dulles returned last night from the Big Four foreign ministers meeting in Berlin, where he agreed to seating Russia and Red China at the conference opening April 26 at Geneva, Switzerland.

He obviously was disturbed by some fears expressed in Congress that "appeasement" might result. He told newsmen who met him at the airport that this country got "100 per cent" of what it wanted and that "the place and composition of the conference are precisely what we sought."

Faces 3 Tough Days

Dulles, fatigued after nearly a month of fencing with Russia's V. M. Molotov, faces three days of possibly stiff questioning by congressional leaders of both parties and by the House Foreign Affairs and Senate Foreign Relations Committees. He also will report to the nation Wednesday night on radio and TV.

Dulles was understood to be preparing to stress that his agreement in no way cleanses Russia of guilt in promoting and supporting Chinese and North Korean aggression in Korea.

He also is said to be planning to emphasize that this country will continue to refuse recognition to Red China and will not permit her admission to the United Nations.

Did "Good Job"

The Asian peace conference will search for ways to bring final peace in Korea and to end the seven-year-old Communist-led uprising in Indochina.

Rep. Richards (D-SC) said Dulles did "a good job," but he also commented that if former Secretary of State Dean Acheson had come home with such an agreement, it would have been called "a sellout to the Reds." Richards is senior Democrat on the House Foreign Affairs Committee.

Two Men Arrested On Extortion Charge

CHICAGO (P)—Two Chicago men were seized by the FBI Friday and charged with attempted extortion of $100,000 from the president of a South Side savings and loan association with threats of murdering a member of his family.

Guy Banister, agent in charge of the Chicago FBI office, identified the pair as Benjamin Alteman, 37, operator of a small cabinet shop on the South Side, and Ronald W. Greer, 23, an unemployed laborer. Banister said their intended victim was Ben Bohac, president of the Talman Federal Savings and Loan Assn.

THE WORLD OF BOOKS

Through the courtesy of the Yale University Press I wish to quote the finest thing that I have ever read as to the power and influence of books. It was written by Clarence Day, a Yale man and author of "God and My Father," "Life with Father," and many others. It is far better than anything I could ever write, so here it is:

THE WORLD OF BOOKS*

Is the most remarkable creation of man

Nothing else that he builds ever lasts

Monuments fall

Nations perish

Civilizations grow old and die out

And after an era of darkness

New races build others

But in the world of books are volumes

That have seen this happen again

And again

And yet live on

Still as fresh as the day they were written

Still telling men's hearts

Of the hearts of men centuries dead.

After reading this inspired piece of writing, how can we fail to gather about ourselves treasures so easily acquired, awaiting our love and eternal gratitude?

Just Folks

WISHES

If all we want were granted,
And every wish came true,
You'd cut your neighbor's lawn for him.

He'd do the same for you.

If each his life could order,
Then every winter through You'd shovel off your neighbor's snow.

He'd do the same for you.

Suppose he wanted sunshine
When you had asked for rain,
Whichever wish was granted,
The other would complain.

If you could run things your way,
Your neighbor run by his,
You'd surely both be wishing
For life the way it is.

EXPLORERS CALL CAVE 'ENDLESS'

CRYSTAL CAVE, Ky. (P)—Explorers today called Crystal Cave in southern Kentucky an "underground monster" that may be the longest cave in the world.

Members of the National Speleological (cave study) Society, who will come to the surface today after exploring Crystal Cave a week, said they feel convinced it will prove to be bigger than Mammoth Cave.

The entrances of the two caves are just four miles apart in the Mammoth Cave National Park area. Mammoth Cave now holds the title of the world's longest cave.

One exploring party reported, "The more cave we found, the more leads we got, and the more endless the cavern became." They said they stumbled into a "lost paradise" of canyons where coral, fossils, and shells were inlaid in wide streaks across cave walls.

INCOME TAX CUT PROPOSAL GETS QUICK SUPPORT BY DEMOCRATS

By JOE HALL

WASHINGTON (P)—Democrats in Congress massed jubilantly today behind a new proposal to cut individual income taxes. Republicans, conscious of its political implications, approached the issue warily.

The fresh proposal to provide new tax relief by boosting personal exemptions was sprung unexpectedly yesterday by Sen. George (D-Ga.), ranking Democrat on the Senate Finance Committee which handles tax bills.

George suggested that the personal exemption be raised from the present $600 to $800 this year and to $1,000 next year. He said he viewed such action as a necessary anti-recession measure.

Hailed By Democrats

The George proposal goes much farther than a like idea sponsored by Democratic members of the House Ways and Means Committee. These House Democrats suggested that the personal exemption be hiked to $700—but they were beaten 15-10 by the Republican majority on the committee which now is busy overhauling the nation's tax structure.

A number of House Democrats have made it plain they will fight for their plan when the tax revision bill reaches the floor in about two weeks. They hailed the George proposal and said it would make their battle an easier one. Tax legislation must originate in the House. The George proposal, however, could be added to the tax revision measure when it comes to the Senate.

Would Help Large Families
The George plan would be of most help to large families and those with low income.

George said his proposal actually would not mean a net revenue loss of 4½ billion this year.

He explained he would substitute the personal exemption increase for some of the other tax relief measures in the revision bill now being drafted by the House Ways and Means Committee.

URGES USE OF 17 CLINICS BY FEVER PATIENTS

HARRISBURG (P)—The State Rheumatic Fever Division Friday urged more extensive use of its clinical facilities by residents of the commonwealth.

"Our 17 state clinics—equipped to provide the very best in diagnosis and treatment advice for rheumatic fever sufferers—have been overlooked by many residents of the state who stand to benefit greatly through their use," said division chief Dr. Mary L. Richardson.

In each of the clinics, Dr. Richardson pointed out, there is a medical specialist whose advice is "beyond value" in the treatment of the disease.

"Last year about 2,500 persons 21 or less made use of our clinics but we feel many more persons could avail themselves of the expert advice of our clinic heads," she said, adding:

"The state appropriated $125,000 for use this year in conducting the business of the clinics and all the services are available to the public without charge."

Limit Patients

Clinic treatment is available only to residents of the state who have not yet passed their 21st birthday. Dr. Richardson said no appreciable rise in the number of rheumatic fever cases has been noted in Pennsylvania by the department. The number of patients who used the clinic facilities last year was slightly above previous years.

"This increase is an indication that more people are becoming aware of the service rather than an indication that the number of rheumatic fever cases is increasing," she explained.

"Medical science has made great strides in recent years toward finding a cure for the disease and today we do not consider it as hopeless. We can control it with early and adequate treatment and we hope some day soon to find a preventative and a cure for the disease."

OPERATE TEN TOLL BRIDGES AT SMALL COST

HARRISBURG (P)—Operating expenses for 10 toll bridges taken over by the state several years ago are considered by the Pennsylvania Highways Department as tight as any toll system in the country.

Highways Secretary E. L. Schmidt said expenses are running about 15 per cent of collections in the operation of the bridges.

"That's as tight as operating expenses as you'll find in any toll system in the country," he said Thursday.

Since the state took over the 10 spans in 1949 annual toll collections have been $5,719,380 and expenses $881,641.

Listing toll takers' salaries as the principal item of expense, Schmidt pointed out that there is an average daily cost of $594.50 for toll collections.

The Point Marion bridge operation has one of the lowest expense accounts with collection costs running about 12 per cent of tolls. The span carries Rout 119 traffic across the Monongahela River in Fayette County and has a 25-cent automobile toll.

$5 Million In Fund

Although gross toll collections have totalled $5,179,830, the expense of operating the spans has reduced the amount actually transferred to the toll bridge fund to $4,837,739.

The fund, including $742,079 in assets acquired when the bridges were purchased by private interests, now amounts to $5,579,818.

Schmidt said the spans probably won't be freed until late 1955 or early 1956.

The state purchased nine of the 10 spans for 6½ million dollars. The cost of the Walnut Street Bridge in Harrisburg is still in litigation. That may run as high as a million dollars, Schmidt estimated.

Toll bridge collections, less ex-

SENTENCE GIRL SLAYER TO DIE IN GAS CHAMBER

HOLBROOK, Ariz. (P)—New Mexico carnival owner Carl J. Folk convicted of the sadistic slaying of a Wattsburg, Pa., woman, has been sentenced to die in the Arizona State Prison's gas chamber April 30.

Folk maintained his innocence Thursday and wept as Superior Court Judge Don T. Udall passed sentence on the 60-year-old former inmate at a New Mexico insane asylum.

Judge Udall delivered a scathing rebuke of New Mexico officials in pronouncing sentence.

"In no case in the annals of crime will one find such a night of torture, sadism, assault and murder as on the night of Dec. 1, 1953," the judge declared. He said New Mexico officials "grossly erred in giving so vile a criminal his liberty."

On the night in December, the state had charged, Folk assaulted, tortured and finally strangled Mrs. Betty Fay Allen as her husband lay tied helplessly in the couple's trailer home near here.

Wounded By Husband

The husband, Raymond, was taking his young wife and their son to a new home in San Jose, Calif. Allen managed to free herself and shot and wounded Folk with a gun Allen kept in his pickup truck.

Folk had been committed to an insane asylum in New Mexico Nov. 1, 1949, after being charged with assaulting a young girl. Two months after he was committed he was released and, at his wife's request, papers declaring him legally sane were issued in 1951.

Mrs. Folk, who was present during the sentencing, also wept as her husband protested his innocence.

"I am not guilty," Folk told Navajo County Superior Court. "Things were said in this courtroom that did not occur. I did not commit murder. I did not torture anybody. All I did was tie them up."

Judge Udall called the slaying the worst crime of its kind in history.

"The court is amazed at your being at large (then) with your recent record of crime," he said. "I am fully convinced that this crime would never have occurred—that is, you would never have been in a position to commit it—had the New Mexico psychiatrists, your witnesses, based their conclusions on the true medical and psychiatric findings obtainable in your case."

YANKEES GUARD INDIAN TROOPS LEAVING KOREA

SEOUL (P)—Four hundred Indian troops, guarded by U.S. riflemen, filed aboard a transport bound for home Friday while 700 liberated Korean War prisoners demonstrated in Seoul.

The former POWs paraded through the streets of this capital shouting "Down with the Indians" and carrying banners blasting the troops which had guarded unrepatriated prisoners in the neutral zone.

The Indian soldiers made the 60-mile train trip from Panmunjom to Inchon without incident despite threats from a high ROK official to block their departure.

Lt. Gen. Won Yong Duk, South Korean provost marshal, had said the Indians would not be allowed to leave unless his government received guarantees of safety for 76 Korean POWs taken to India.

Wear U. S. Uniform

The 76 Koreans and 12 Chinese asked to live in neutral nations and were sent to India pending a final decision on their future.

Observers said the demonstration by former prisoners might have been staged by Won.

Most of the ex-POWs, many of them wearing U.S. Army uniforms, came here from ROK army centers in the south. They wore headbands identifying their group as "Anti-Communist Youth" and carried banners reading: "Arrest the Indian intruders." Let us fight to the death to get back our comrades" and "Punishment of the Indians."

Another 1,000 Indians are scheduled to make the trip to Inchon Saturday to board the transport Jalagopal.

Hanover Rallies In Last Half To Down Warriors 64-51; Jayvees Bow 43-42

Weakening in the third quarter after holding a 35-28 edge in the opening moments of that period, the Gettysburg High School cagers dropped a 64-51 decision to the Hanover Nighthawks at Hanover Friday night in a South Penn League game.

The Warriors got off to a slow start, went on a scoring spree to lead at half time and then faltered in the final two periods to drop their ninth decision against as many victories.

Hanover pushed out into a 15-8 lead late in the first quarter and then the Warriors went on a scoring spree which was good for 16 points before the Hawks could score again. A foul and goal by Bobby Rohrbaugh and a double-decker by Jay Schmitt left the Forney-men trailing but by 15-13 at the end of the round.

Peter Baughman entered the lineup at the start of the second quarter and scored immediately after the tap-off. Consecutive goals by Rohrbaugh, Fred Baker, Schmitt and Baughman rocketed the count to 23-15 before Hanover took time out. After resumption of play Hanover rallied to cut the Gettysburg lead to 26-20 but a pair of goals by Schmitt made it 30-20. With 2:30 remaining Slevin looped a goal with Wagman adding two while Baker's dribble-through shot was only local tally during the time. At half time Gettysburg was on top 32-26.

Baughman opened the second half with a goal and foul which was followed by Slevin's jump toss. Baker converted a pair of charity tosses and Hanover racked up a trio of goals and foul to knot the score at 37-37. Paul Ketterman hit on a charity toss before Wagman sent the Hawks ahead on a one-hander. Slevin added another goal before the Warriors went back into the lead for the final time at 42-41 on goals by Baughman and Rohrbaugh. Hanover took over at that point and, following ties at 42-42 and 44-44, swept into a 52-47 lead as Schmitt's goal closed the period as the buzzer sounded.

Offense Folds
The faltering Warriors could account for but two goals in the final round—Ketterman and Roger Zeien landing from the field—as Rife and Wagman led the game with five goals between them.

Charley Wagman put up an outstanding game for Hanover and took the scoring honors with 22. Schmitt, Rohrbaugh and Baughman netted 13, 12 and 10 in that order for the Warriors.

Next Tuesday the Warriors ring down the curtain on their season when they will be host to Chambersburg, first half champs and defending titlists.

Jack Cervino's reserves surprised the league-leading Hanover outfit in the preliminary game but lost a tough 43-42 decision. Merle Gorman kept the locals in the running with his 19 points.

Bucknell Meets Bullets Here This Evening; No Prelim

Gettysburg College goes after its 11th basketball victory of the campaign here this evening when Bucknell University will be met at 8 o'clock.

No preliminary game will be played.

The Bullets easily defeated the Bisons at Lewisburg in a previous game but tonight anticipate more trouble inasmuch as the Bucknell squad, loaded with sophomores, has been improving with each game.

JR. HI QUINT 34TH STRAIGHT FALCON VICTIM

Hanover's powerhouse undefeated Junior High basketball team displayed a potent offense and tight defense in drubbing the Gettysburg cagers here Friday evening 45-19. The victory was the 34th straight in a three-year winning streak for the Falcons.

It was the visitors' game all the way as they limited the locals to four field goals and blanked Coach Luther Sachs' boys 16-0 in the first period.

Bob Forry, sharp-shooting Falcon forward, again paced his team with 17 points. Earl Little netted five to top the locals while Hess dropped in two of the four goals.

The loss was the sixth against seven wins for Gettysburg who close their season at Chambersburg next Tuesday evening.

Hanover also took the preliminary game but by a much closer score, 7-3. Hanover trailed 11-8 at half time but moved ahead in the third frame by outscoring the locals 9-3. Coach Ira Kerr's reserves also have a 7-6 record as the result of the setback.

Littlestown High replaced York Springs as the third place team in the Adams County League by defeating the Springers 67-55 Friday evening as the regular league season came to an end.

By virtue of its new position Littlestown will oppose second-place Biglerville in the opening game of the league playoffs Monday evening at 6:45 o'clock on the Gettysburg College floor. The second game will pit undefeated Boiling Springs against fourth-place York Springs. Final round robin games will be played on the college floor next Thursday.

The triumph also sends the Thunderbolts into the District 3 Class C playoffs and they are due to meet Scotland of Franklin County on February 27.

Dean Yealy had one of his best nights for Littlestown by dropping 35 points through the meshes as Lynn Golden, York Springs, netted 19 to finish second in the league scoring.

Boiling Springs, two-time league titlists, completed their unbeaten season by routing Newville 76-30. Bream paced the Bubblers with 20 points.

Terry Hutton sewed up the individual scoring crown in the league by looping 34 points as the second-place Biglerville outfit routed East Berlin 64-36. Fourteen of his points came on fouls in 16 tries.

New Oxford, led by Hoover who swished 21 points and Little who secured 19, led all the way in crushing Fairfield 69-39. Spence sank 16 points for Fairfield.

DAD WATCHES SONS HELP BEAT WAKE FOREST

WASHINGTON (AP)—Joe Holup's good luck charm watched the 6 foot 6 basketball star run off to the dressing room. "I really sweated that one out," said the good luck charm—his middle-aged father, John Holup Sr.

The elder Holup had come down from Swyersville, Pa., to watch Joe and his brother, John Jr., help 8th-ranked George Washington University gain an 86-74 victory over Wake Forest last night.

"I've never seen my boys lose a game for GW," the elder Holup said, "but none of them come easy."

Holup Sr., his wife and the Swyersville high coach, Eddie Champion, motored down for the game.

Joe Scores 27
John, a rebound artist, scored only five points, but helped set up for Joe and Corky Devlin of Newark, N.J. Devlin collected 28 points and Joe Holup 27 in driving GW to its 18th victory against only one defeat this season.

GW had a mediocre record last year, winning 13 and losing 8, but every time Holup Sr., was in the stands his boys were on the winning side. He was on hand when Joe set GW's all-time individual scoring record—33 points against Duke on Dec. 22, 1952.

Joe, a sophomore, has been one of the big reasons for GW's 8th ranking. He stands well up among the national leaders in field goal accuracy and rebounds and he's averaging better than 20 points a game.

Excel On Defense
John, a senior, has been a steady factor in the racehorse GW attack. Both Holups excelled on defense last night, keeping high scoring Dickie Hemric pretty well bottled up, even though he scored 26 points.

Hemric almost never missed when the ball got to him in his pivot position, but it didn't come in very often.

Coach Bill Reinhart of the George Washington team figures that by the time Joe Holup gets to be a senior two years hence, he will have broken just about every GW record.

Joe didn't do badly in high school when he was a senior, he led little Swyersville High to the state championships, achieving a Pennsylvania high school scoring record along the way. Joe pumped in 71 points in one of those games.

SKATING
OSLO—Tenley Albright of Boston lost her world figure skating crown to Gundl Busch of Germany as she tumbled to the ice coming out of a double loop jump.

GOLF
MIAMI BEACH, Fla.—Patty Berg shot a two-under-par 72 to move into the lead at the halfway point in the Servin Women's Tour-ament.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—Johnny Palmer, Charlotte, N.C., took the lead in the Texas Open with a nine-under-par 62 that gave him 127 for 36 holes.

News Of Special Interest To The Automobile Owners Of Adams County

Recalls Mechanical And Other Flaws In Early Cars; Says New Cars Now Put Together Better

Far too many cars these days seem to be in first crash condition. Trouble Nothing New

I have just finished reading an elaborate report to the effect that too many new cars these days are slapped together and delivered to dealers in anything but perfect condition. It makes interesting reading, of course, but my mind goes back to earlier cars which certainly were no credit to the industry. Maybe things are not as bad as they might be considering the speed and the quantity of production, plus the fact that today's cars are highly complicated.

My first car was delivered with a cap screw missing from the crankcase. It used about 6 quarts of oil in 50 miles, and I was lucky not to burn out a bearing. The second one had a front-wheel speedometer drive gear that was always getting out of line and setting up a growling noise. The choke on this job was a simple piano wire with a button, but it was forever coming loose. The third car came through with a knock in the motor which, after three years of searching, proved to be a warped water pump shaft. Then there was the car with the early type hydraulic brakes, the master cylinder leaking so badly I had to pump up the reserve tank plunger every fourth stop!

Keeps Them Locking

Those door and luggage compartments locks will work better if you put a little alcohol into them. Best way is to dunk the key in alcohol as this avoids the chance of alcohol getting on the car's finish. When the alcohol evaporates put a little powdered graphite on the key and insert it. There are a number of things about the engine and its accessories which not only affect performance but which affect the spark plugs adversely, too. Unfortunately too many owners think of the plugs as they may, and often do, affect the engine.

If there isn't sufficient tappet clearance, for instance, an engine will labor on hills. That may bring on overheating which, like a slipping fan belt or a defective water pump, will raise operating temperature above the point where the plugs are designed to operate. If they are not extremely cool in type their electrodes will glow and cause preignition, backfiring and additional loss of power.

Plugs are easy to remove and inexpensive enough to lure many an owner into scrapping the old set when it would be much more logical to check the carburetor, fuel pump and the intake manifold system. Any excessive leanness of mixture will result in a high combustion temperature and a good chance of burning spark plugs points. If the mixture is too rich the plugs become sooty and cannot do a good job.

Mechanic Joe Speaking:

"If more motorists realized what tricks can be done by way of refinishing car exteriors these days they would be less inclined to put up with rust spots, dents and scratches. Sometimes quite a lot of surface damage can be removed by color waxing and judicious use of a power buffer. Talking with some paint men the other day I was reminded to pass along the fact that sometimes damage of a serious nature can be started by metallic particles flying through the air and landing on the car's finish. Here if they are not washed off, they become embedded in the color coating. If the trouble reaches this point a good painter can rub it out with a rubbing compound mixed with polish."

Rough On Interiors

Those ice melting salts used in some localities for keeping the streets in safe driving condition can be rough on the car's floor carpeting and the rubber mats used to protect them, so don't waste all your time worrying about the chrome and the car's underplating. Frequent washings will help prevent salt from etching its way into the car's vitals, as will the undercoating we hope you invested in when the car was new, but give a little more thought to the car's flooring. Brush out the mess you track in with your shoes or overshoes, and try to keep the floor covering dry. Clean with volatile cleansers and a brisk rubbing. Rubber mats should be taken out and washed in tepid water.

Keep These In Mind

Loss of power after the motor is well warmed up, especially on hills, is a hint that there isn't sufficient tappet clearance. If valves do not seat tightly the effect is just like loss of compression.

If you are travelling extensively this winter you may need a refilling with new anti-freeze. Slow leakage of combustion gases into the cooling system combine with the rust preventives to form salts

"Greater visibility, ventilation and heater capacity plus automobile devices for increased passenger pleasure and comfort.

"Enhanced high efficiency, high horsepower V-8 engine performance to deliver more versatile, more dependable, silent, smooth and responsive operation.

Risk In That Sludge

This is the time of year when it isn't unusual for engines to develop lubrication troubles, and the reason is simply that there has been careless use of additives to thin down the motor oil for easier starting. This plan is all right when an engine is reasonably clean, but if there is quite an accumulation of sludge in the crankcase this much is quite apt to be stirred up and sent into circulation throughout the engine. Trapped in the oil return hole of the timing gear case such sludge may cause a bad oil leak. It may clog the screen to the oil pump inlet, or get into some of the fine passages drilled through the connecting rods. If the engine has had considerable service, or the sludge, by all means have the oil pan taken down and the sludge manually removed before using additives to speed cold starting.

Special Care For This

I hope you haven't learned this the hard way but that plastic back window for the convertible should not be dusted with a dry cloth or with a duster. Instead wipe it lightly with a clean cloth moistened in cold water, and go crosswise, not up and down or in circles. Under no conditions use hot water or any cleansing agents. If the back window becomes covered with snow or ice don't use a scraper. Failure to observe these simple rules will make quite a scratched up mess of the plastics.

Rules Unto Themselves

There's no telling how long car owners will be told to rotate tires by a fixed rule, for apparently it takes many years to undo the work of those who have failed to tell the public that every case is different. Tire men know quite well that often some ribbed treads, so effective for use on front wheels, should not be used on rear wheels. And, vice versa, there are special rough treads for rear wheel use which will certainly set up rumbling if used up front. Another important point is that tread wear does not follow the pattern which is taken for granted by all those who advocate a set rule of tire rotation. By their calculations the right rear tire should always wear faster than the other, but in actual experience it is usually the right front tire which takes the greatest punishment because of front-end misalignment.

What's Your Trouble?

Q. I find that the headlights on my car are fitted with a plain fuse instead of a circuit breaker and that when they fail there is complete blackout. It nearly cost me my life the other night. What can I do about this? K. L. M.

A. There are two possibilities here. You could have a thermal breaker installed. Or you could install a spot light or a pair of fog lights in a separate circuit and use these when driving at night, just in case the headlights failed. The spotlight should, of course, be focused to the ground on the right hand side of the car.

Q. What is meant by TDC in directions for timing the ignition? H. G.

A. These letters stand for "top dead center" — a piston's full up position.

Q. How much air is consumed by the engine for each cubic foot of gasoline? T. McB.

A. If the mixture has a 15 to 1 proportion of air to gasoline the carburetor would take in 9000 cubic feet of air for each cubic foot of fuel.

Q. I can't find out what the breaker point condenser capacity should be for the ignition system of my car. What now? L.L.M.

A. You will be safe with a capacity of 0.2 to 0.4 microfarad.

Q. The engine of my car shows a very low vacuum reading. Have had compression checked. L. F. D.

A. If you are sure there isn't an air leak around the intake manifold then I would check for a burned heat riser.

Q. Have been doing some checking on the starting motor. It hasn't seemed to operate normally. Yesterday I took it off and while it

GARAGE OWNER SENT TO JAIL

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. (U)—Thomas M. Wheatley Sr., 51-year-old Langhorne garage owner, was sentenced yesterday to a 3 1/2 year jail term for the Memorial Day shooting of a state policeman.

Sentence was imposed by Bucks County Judge Edwin Satterthwaite. State Trooper George Caldwell was wounded seriously by Wheatley during an argument over who was to tow away an automobile damaged in an accident. The shooting occurred on the Lincoln Highway in Middletown Township, near Langhorne.

Wheatley's attorney said there would be no appeal of the sentence which also included a $1,000 fine for assault and battery with intent to kill and $1,000 for attempting to kill.

Wheatley's son, Thomas M. Wheatley Jr., recently was released from Bucks County prison after serving two months for assault and battery on Caldwell.

ACTRESS FOUND UNCONSCIOUS

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Actress Anne Sterling was found unconscious in her apartment Friday but after a quick trip to a hospital where her stomach was pumped she was reported to be out of danger.

Sheriff's Deputies D. R. Gibson and D. Rinkwich said they found the 32-year-old blonde unconscious in bed with two pill boxes, one empty and the other containing 12 capsules, nearby. Her physician Dr. Harold Mills, told investigators that she had accidentally taken an overdose of prescribed medicine.

The sheriff's officers, who said they found the actress and singer dressed in pink and black negligee, said they went to her apartment to investigate after the telephone company reported that her telephone had been off the hook for more than an hour.

Miss Sterling, who formerly appeared in Broadway musical comedies, was hospitalized for a while in New York in June of 1945 after taking an overdose of sleeping medicine.
